$125 Million Funds Asked For Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today for an extra $125 million to help step up the war against communism in South Viet Nam.

The money will go into increased support of both military and civil operations of the Vietnamese.

In a special message, Johnson spelled out the needs and the intentions. He said that "by our words and deeds to a decade of determined effort, we are pledged before the world to stand with the free people of Viet Nam."

And he said two major changes have dictated the necessity for increasing financial help to Viet Nam:

"First, the Viet Cong guerrillas, under orders from their Communist masters in the North, have intensified terrorist actions against the peaceful people of South Viet Nam. This increased terrorism requires increased response.

Three More Homes To Be Moved Out; Two Torn Down

Removal of the remainder of the houses on the site where a new Safeway Supermarket is to be erected began Monday under contract to Sid K. Mabry. The work is to be completed in 40 days.

The future home of the supermarket is bounded by Broadway and Ninth and Ohio and Lamine. One home has already been moved to a new address.

Mabry workmen are to move three of the remaining five houses, a spokesman said. The other two are to be torn down. Construction contracts for the new store have not been let and are not expected to be awarded until the property has been cleared of existing homes.

ouster of Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich in 1957. His death from cancer of the liver was announced Sunday.

He was one of the last direct links of the party leadership with Lenin.

There was speculation that Khrushchev, visiting in Egypt, and First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, visiting in Tokyo, would speed home to take part in the appointment of Kuusinen's successor.

Frequently mentioned is Viktor Grishin, a candidate member of the presidium and head of the trade unions.

Kuusinen's death also could provide Khrushchev with the opportunity of replacing two ailing members of the presidium—Frol Kozlov, 54, incapacitated by a stroke, and Nikolai Shvernik, 76.

Khrushchev, 70, returned to Cairo Sunday, tired and strained after a hectic four-day tour in the 100-degree heat of upper Egypt, 430 miles south of Cairo.

The tumultuous reception he received at every stop in Egypt undoubtedly added to the premier's fatigue. He canceled a visit to a steel mill today and an officers' dinner tonight but planned to go ahead with scheduled talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Missile Explosion Kills Three Workers

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—A small missile being readied for test firing from an airplane blew up today at nearby Tyn-dall Air Force Base, killing three people and injuring eight.

The Air Force declined to identify any of the victims immediately. All three dead reportedly were airmen.

Some of the injured were treated by physicians and released immediately.

A spokesman for the base said the propellant for the missile exploded.

The missile, some six feet long and eight inches thick, was being prepared for firing from an airplane in tests over the adjacent Gulf of Mexico.

The force of the blast blew a hole through the roof of the building where the missile was being prepared.

CATV Topic For Council Meet Tonite

Three firms seeking a franchise in Sedalia for the installation of a community antenna television system (CATV) are scheduled to present proposals to the City Council at its regular session tonight at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall. A fourth firm has indicated an interest in submitting a proposal, it was learned today.

Two of the firms began seeking a CATV franchise sometime ago and in January after a special session the council tabled the issue. The firms were the United Video System, which is being represented by local attorneys William F. Brown and James E. Durely; and the Meredith Broadcasting Company, owners of KCMO Broadcasting in Kansas City.

The council delayed any action on request of Jefferson Television Company, owners of KRCG-TV in Jefferson City and KMOG-TV here, pending a survey by the Jefferson firm. Jefferson spokesmen have since voiced opposition to the CATV system.

New in the list of firms seeking a franchise is the Commonwealth Theater Company. Their interests will be presented to question them.

Mayor L. L. Studer said today that the Trans Video Corporation of the state of California had been granted permission to submit a proposal also, but their offering has not yet been received.

The firms in general offer proposals for the construction of a booster antenna system which would receive far off TV signals, amplify them and carry them into the homes of CATV subscribers by the means of coaxial cables mounted on existing utility poles—probably those of the telephone company.

Average cost for such a service has been reported at $6 per month.

Opposition has arisen from the Jefferson Television Company and a group composed largely of local radio and television servicemen. Their objections

Toll to 6 In Accident Near Windsor

Dwight Fancher, 12, injured fatally in the two-car crash four miles southwest of Windsor, Saturday evening, died enroute to University of Kansas Medical Center. His death brings to six persons who died as result of the accident.

His sister, Sharon Fancher, 9, is reported as "fair" and Darrell Lee Akin, 28, remains in serious condition, as result of injuries received in the accident. They are in the Medical Center in Kansas City.

Killed in the accident were Dwight's mother, Mrs. Emma Rust, about 30; his stepfather, John Ray Rust, 34; and his brother Richard Fancher 10. In the second car, Noah Lee Utt, 21, and Thomas Ronald Bowen, 20, were also killed.

Akin was a passenger in the Rust car.

The accident occurred on State Highway 52 when Utt, reported to have been chasing or racing another car, lost control of the machine and it went off the right side of the highway and then into a side skid crashing into the Rust car.

Rust, who was headed eastward, apparently saw the wavering car and appeared to have pulled off on the right shoulder in an attempt to avoid the collision. It appeared as if the right front of the 1964 car of Utt's crashed into the front of the Rust car and ripped the entire right side from the new automobile.

So terrific was the impact the motor of the Rust Oldsmobile car was knocked loose and thrown across the road into the ditch, and the front end practically flattened against the dash.

According to State Trooper Conrad H. Henley of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, witnesses said Utt's car was traveling at approximately 100 miles per hour. The Utt car, a Ford, had 877 miles on the speedometer.

All of the victims resided in Windsor and Rust was with the ITT Kellogg Company.

Secret Report 'Considered' By Baker Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Star says a secret report being considered by the committee investigating Bobby Baker proposes that all senators be prohibited from associating with any person or company doing business with the government.

The report also urges that senators be forced to divulge their financial holdings and submit to interrogation by any Senate committee that wants to question them.

The recommendations are in a summary of the Baker case submitted to the Senate Rules Committee by its majority counsel, Lenox P. McLendon.

Command Post Falls To Reds

Critical Situation At Strategic Laos Neutralist Point

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The command post of neutralist Gen. Kong Le on the eastern edge of the strategic Plaine des Jarres fell to the Communists today, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma reported.

The neutralist prince told newsmen the situation was "still critical" at Muong Phan, the village 100 miles northeast of Vientiane that Kong Le used as headquarters for his 7,000-man neutralist army.

Souvanna said pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops and North Vietnamese soldiers overran Kong Le's command post after two days of heavy shelling and bitter fighting. No estimate of casualties was available.

Military sources said Kong Le was in the general vicinity of Muong Phan but had retreated southward to set up a new defense perimeter.

The renewed Communist drive has stirred concern in Washington that another Southeast Asian crisis was developing. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Johnson held urgent talks on the situation Sunday.

A radio broadcast from the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi, heard in Tokyo, said neutralist troops at Muong Phan had slain rightist soldiers serving with them.

The broadcast said the rightists were killed "to oppose the U.S. scheme to merge neutralist troops to set up a unified government." It did not elaborate.

One Officer Suspended; One Resigns

Violation of police rules and regulations brought suspension to one police officer for 14 days and resignation from another Sunday night. The violation was in the misuse of firearms while on duty.

Officer Gordon McDowell was suspended by Chief of Police W. E. Miller, while James D. Burrus, police officer serving his probation period, tendered his resignation to Chief Miller.

Chief Miller said he had received a report of firearms being fired in the vicinity of Cedar Drive and Griessen Road, the area known as Mooresville, about 1:30 a.m. Sunday morning. He conducted an investigation and learned the two officers mentioned were involved.

Officer Burrus, it was reported, had fired his pistol at a fence post, and in some manner the bullet struck a dog. Instead of stopping to investigate, they left the area and also failed to make a report to their sergeant of the incident.

"I had no other choice than to accept the resignation or dismiss Officer Burrus while Officer McDowell did not fire any shots, but based on the fact McDowell should have known better, I have suspended him for two weeks," Chief Miller said.

According to information available to officers, the patrolmen knew a dog had been struck by a bullet. Efforts to find the wounded dog have been futile. Considerable blood was found near the scene where the dog had stopped and where children had been sleeping out in a small tent.

Chief Miller Monday morning announced the hiring of Ray D. Rieder, 1830 South Carr, as a police officer on a temporary basis for 30 days. Such temporary hirings are provided for under the merit system police administration to provide the Police Personnel Board time to conduct examinations and employ a new officer.

Rieder was formerly a newsman for radio station KDRO.

Miller said the shortage of one man during McDowell's suspension will be filled in with some officers working overtime. McDowell is scheduled to return to duty on June 1.

GOP Contest Wide Open; Leaders Say

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Assessing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's Oregon victory, Republican governors agreed generally today that the contest for the GOP presidential nomination remains wide open.

Some of the seven state chief executives who responded to invitations to comment on their party's political situation indicated they think the June 2 California primary may be a decisive factor in dewatering the nominee.

Rockefeller, who won Oregon's 18 convention votes in that state's balloting Friday, faces Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in the last significant primary before the party convention opens here July 13.

Gov. John Anderson of Kansas, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, said the Oregon primary in which Rockefeller topped U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, "shows the Republican nominee in San Francisco is not settled yet."

"Goldwater certainly is leading in delegates but I don't think it's in the bag," Anderson said. Goldwater placed third in Oregon with Richard M. Nixon fourth.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho said the Oregon results will increase the importance of the California primary outcome.

"If Goldwater wins in California," Smylie said, "it is likely that he will be nominated on the first ballot. If it looks like that is what is going to happen, it would be smart for the Idaho delegation to go along with him."

Harry Hoffman Knew James, Younger

Friend of Outlaws Is Dead

FAIRFIELD, Ohio, (AP)—Harvey C. (Harry) Hoffman, longtime friend of Frank James and Cole Younger, died Sunday in a nursing home at Hamilton, Ohio. He was 90.

As a child, Hoffman's parents lived next door in Kansas City, Mo., to "Mr. Howard," who really was the bank robber, Jesse James.

Hoffman had been in the nursing home since October when he went there from his ranch, Trail's End, near Oxford, Ohio, where he lived the last 25 years.

He was born in Smithfield, Ill. and his father, a lumber contractor, took the family to Kansas City in the early 1880s. Next door to their Kansas City home was Mr. and Mrs. Tom Howard and their children. Hoffman remembered Howard as a kind man and became friends with a son, Tim Howard.

Radio Appeals For Rebellion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—New attacks on Communist Cuba by exile raiders Tuesday or Wednesday were hinted today by members of Miami's refugee colony.

Officially, they said nothing. But Manuel Ray, head of one action group, had promised to be fighting on Cuban soil before May 20, the nation's independence anniversary.

The exiles added it would not be surprising to hear that Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, head of another group specializing in guerrilla tactics, might be in action on May 19, anniversary of the battlefield death in 1895 of Cuban patriot Jose Marti.

Gutierrez Menoyo, former major in Prime Minister Fidel Castro's rebel army, was one of the most successful guerrilla leaders against ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista. He turned against Castro when the Havana regime became Communist.

Many here believe both Ray and Gutierrez Menoyo may be in Cuba now.

Sources in San Juan reported that Ray left Puerto Rico over the weekend.

Ray, 39, an engineer, went into hiding two weeks ago, after saying in a telephone interview that he would return to Cuba either alone or with two or three others to lead the underground on the island. He left behind a well-paying Puerto Rican government job, a wife and five children.

Broadcasts heard in Miami from a station identifying itself as Radio Free Cuba, "transmitting from within Cuban territory," told the Cuban people the hour of the Communist "traitors is very near." It appealed to Castro's soldiers, militiamen and workers to rebel.

Exile leaders claim Castro's regime is ripe for ouster, but U.S. officials believe the Communist dictatorship has such a tight, police-state grip on Cuba as to make a popular uprising unlikely.

Accidents

Two automobiles were involved in a sideswipe accident on County Route MM about three and a half miles north of Gasoline Alley Junction about 2:50 p.m. Sunday afternoon. No injuries were reported to occupants of the cars.

According to the State Highway Patrol, one car a 1964 Ford coach was headed north, and driven by Juan Carlos Buso, 26, of Kansas City, and the other a 1955 Ford sedan driven by Miss Marcia Lynn Nold, 15, 1810 South Stewart, Sedalia, was headed north.

The cars sideswiped each other in making a curve. Considerable damage resulted to both cars.

Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle of the State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

A car was found abandoned and burned 1½ miles west of Highway 65 on Benton County Route P early Monday morning.

Investigation by Trooper J. M. Cummings, Warsaw, revealed the auto had caught fire under its hood while being driven about 3:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon. Attempts to extinguish the fire were unsuccessful and the auto burned, the Highway Patrol reported.

The car was being driven west by Donna Ann Lakey, 23, Ionia, when it caught fire.

A rural Sedalian was involved in an accident on a Benton County road at 5:55 p.m. Sunday. There were no injuries reported.

The Highway Patrol reported a 1957 Chevrolet, being driven by Kenneth Harms, 21, Route 1, Sedalia, was turning north and pulled into the path of a 1962 Chevrolet, driven south by Curtis Ficken, 21, Route 1, Lincoln.

The mishap occurred 1½ miles west of Highway 65 and a mile north of Route HH, the patrol reported.

Police found two stop signs vandalized Sunday. The sign at Fourth and Grand had been turned around and the sign on the east side of Limit on 14th Street had been turned upside down.

Two boys were seen stealing four hubcaps from a 1964 Corvette Stingray on the Cal Rodgers auto lot, Fifth and Kentucky, Sunday afternoon. Police are investigating.

Mrs. Beulah Lowe, 901 West Third, told police at 10:30 p.m. Sunday night that two subjects stole two hubcaps from a car owned by her daughter while the auto was parked at the Lowe address.

Ronald Dot'o, 1506 South Warren, reported to police Sunday night that his black and tan female German Shepherd dog had been missing since Saturday. The dog answers to the name "Dusty."

An alley window at the Home Lumber Company was found broken Sunday night. Police investigated for a possible burglary.

Chief of Police William Miller has been gathering bids on air conditioning for the city Police Department on instructions of Councilman Robert Bader and the cost figures are expected to be presented.

The council will also hear officially tonight of the resignation of Jack Kraus as Sedalia-Pettis County Civil Defense director. Mayor Studer will read Kraus' letter of resignation which was submitted last week.

200 Attend AFD Fete At CMSC

More than 200 area citizens were in attendance at the annual Armed Forces Day banquet held in Warrensburg, Saturday night, and heard Maj. Gen. James R. Winn, United States Army, commander, Second Region, U. S. Army Air Defense Command, of Richards-Gebaur AFB.

General Winn stressed the importance of missiles as a great part of the defense of this country. He reviewed the missile history up to the present time and said "I want to bring you up to date on the program." He stressed the missile as a part of the "flexible Power for Peace."

In his talk he told of the importance of the Active Reserve, especially the National Guards. He touched on the Civil Defense program and said, "there is a definite need for this program."

Following his talk, Mayor Tom Williams, of Warrensburg, stepped forward and presented the general a certificate naming him an honorary citizen of Warrensburg, then placed a red-white and blue ribbon around his neck on which was attached a gold "Key to the City."

Preceding the principal talk, Dr. Warren C. Lovinger, president of Central Missouri State College, gave a short address of welcome.

The banquet was held in the Student Union dining hall of CMSC.

W. W. "Woody" Austin acted as master-of-ceremonies and introduced the speaker.

The invocation was given by Rev. Herbert Woodruff, pastor of the Warrensburg Christian Church.

Chamber Panel Provides Trophies For Show, Sales

The agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Dick Monsees is director and Dr. Robert Gouge, general chairman, plans to again present trophies for the shows and sales held at the Missouri State Fair grounds this year. The first presentation will be three trophies to the Midwest Stud and Ram Show and Sale on June 19-20.

The committee also met recently with the Pettis County Extension Council to plan one phase of its program of work, which will be the "Pasture of the Month."

The contest will be held during June, July, August and September. A pasture winner will be selected in each of these months, the monthly winners to receive a trophy, a certificate of achievement and in addition a sign will be placed on the farm to indicate the best pasture of the month.

In September, the four monthly winning pastures will be judged for a grand total winner over all, and the winner will receive a grand prize, a trip to the American Royal in Kansas City and a trophy.

Members of the committee of the pasture of the month are: Dick East, chairman, Dr. R. E. Gouge, Fred Karigan, John Her-ring, J. D. Gregory, Willard Hall, Clarence Schlesselman and Sam Hieronymus.

phase of agriculture today. Several farmers have already been asking for the recommend herbicides for use on corn and soybeans this year.

Weed spray recommendations for use on corn includes post-emergence and lay-by treatment with 2,4-D, D-N-B-P, Randox-T and Atrazine, and a post-emergence directed treatment with Lorox.

For soybeans, amiben, sodium P-C-P and Randox are recommended pre-emergence materials. Under certain conditions . . . (2,4-DB) may have value as a post-emergence application.

Details of these recommendations are available as M-U Guides at County University Extension Centers.

Insects
Each year we have certain insects that cause us trouble. To keep from having so much trouble, you should inspect your crops regularly. Insects can cut into your profits.

Lespedeza, Hay and Seed
With the rains we have been getting, you may be able to get a hay crop and a seed crop from Lespedeza this year.

It is possible in an unusually good season for you to cut lespedeza for a hay crop and harvest seed. To do this, it would be necessary to cut hay when it is six inches above the cutter bar.

In most seasons the growth after cutting for hay is not sufficient to allow harvest of seed.

Savings Bond
An interesting article came across my desk about Savings Bonds. There is a limit on holdings of United States Savings Bonds.

Presently, the limit on holdings of Series E Bonds bought in any one calendar year is $10,000. The limit on H Bonds is $20,000.

Interpreting the limit on holdings of $10,000 limit on E Bonds refers to one individual. This would permit a husband and wife to own $20,000 worth together as co-owners. Each child can also hold $10,000 worth as Co-owner. The E and H limits are separate. A person can hold the full limit in each of the two series.

Why a limit? Savings Bonds were never intended for the big investor. They are for the small investor or for average family savings.

Dairymen Told How To Survive

"The only way to survive in the dairy business is to know what you are doing, and how it fits into what is going on in the industry, in your market, in the United States, and in the world."

That is the opinion of O. E. Allen, University of Missouri extension dairy marketing specialist. "Today, instead of Grade 'A' dairying being a family venture involving a few cows, and a small capital investment, we have moved to larger investments, higher standards, and the need for more efficiency in all phases of production," according to Allen.

Production and marketing go hand in hand for a successful dairy operation, stated Allen. He added that there is little room in the business for those who do not keep abreast of the production and marketing picture, if they wish to make a profit.

Nothing is to be gained by blaming someone for economic difficulties in dairying, said Allen. No one owes anyone anything in this competitive world, and the opportunities are present for those who keep pace with changes in dairying which he predicts may come about more rapidly in the next few years.

To meet today's competition, efficient dairymen have had to embrace new methods and make use of new equipment, said Allen. Examples, he said, are stainless steel farm bulk tanks, pipeline milking, larger herds, increased production per cow, better sanitation, and improved cow health.

The over-all market must be considered, and production tailored to meet market needs, Allen stated. This is an important matter to be considered by dairymen in weighing their situation and determining their course of action, he added.

He noted that insulated tankers and improved roads make it possible to ship fresh milk great distances. This factor offsets the producer access to distant markets if prices of local outlets are out of line, said Allen. By the same token, the dairyman must be able to produce milk for sale at a competitive price or a cheaper product resulting from greater efficiency will replace his output. Allen also noted that dairy products must be produced efficiently enough to make them competitive with substitutes. Presently, he said, midwest milk prices have been too low to per-

Girls Auxiliary At First Baptist Mark Focus Week

The Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church observed Focus Week May 10-16.

On Sunday morning they sat together at worship services. Monday evening at 6:30 the Woman's Missionary Union, consisting of WMS of day and night circles, the Young Woman's Auxiliary, G.A.'s and Sunbeams, sponsored a Baptist Jubilee Fellowshipship.

This began with a contributive meal, followed by the program. The hymn, "This Glad Year of Jubilee," was led by Mrs. B. B. Bess. The auxiliaries presented "Youth in Missions."

Mrs. Terry Pile, WMU president, presented a book to the pastor, Rev. J. R. Wallace. This was given by WMU to show appreciation for his services. A filmstrip, "Foundation of Our Baptist Heritage," was shown by Raymond Hall, education and music director. The benediction was given by Mrs. Howard Gwinn.

The Girls' Auxiliary had its presentation service on Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Bryan Shoemaker, G.A. director, in charge. The girls have previously passed before a reviewing council, and at this time tell the congregation what they have learned.

They are presented with a part of the emblem and upon completion of the Forward Steps will have a completed emblem. The theme is "Arise, Shine." Counselors for the girls are Mrs. Herschel Cantrell, Mrs. Larry Owen, Mrs. Jim Gwinn, Mrs. Howard Gwinn and Mrs. Barney McMillan.

Focus Week is observed each year.

mit all dairymen to make a reasonable return on their operation. On the other hand, he added, prices have been high enough to prohibit an increase in per capita consumption of dairy products.

Another factor in the dairy industry listed as equally important by Allen was cooperation. "Dairymen," he said, "must learn to work together. The time is past when each dairyman can go his own separate way."

He urged dairymen to promote, sell, and produce efficiently, and plan for constant improvement as the way to stay out in front in the dairy business.

Unpopular 'Pillow Talk'

A chemistry professor — a top-notch one, incidentally — has come up with the idea that people should be taught things while they sleep.

There is so much to learn these days, he says, that we can't afford to waste the time we spend sleeping.

He believes it is possible to develop methods of utilizing the subconscious and thus make learning a 24-hour, around-the-clock, never-a-second-wasted project.

Well, this may be fine for the professor. But some of us want to be left alone when we hit the hay and not have the old noggin stuffed with knowledge we don't even know is going into it.

Aside from the old-fashioned belief that a guy deserves a little rest from trying to cope with what confuses him when he's awake, it would be doggedly disconcerting to go to sleep knowing that the privacy of your dreams is going to be invaded by some character who probably ought to be asleep himself instead of poking into your sub-conscious mind.

We don't know whether such carryings-on would be legal, improper or unnatural. But we do have the distinct feeling they would be unnerving.

Please go away, professor, and let a tired man sleep. If a real beat guy can't relax then, when can he?

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Joe Moffatt, of Sedalia, was elected president of the Missouri Association of Milk Sanitarians at its annual meeting in Columbia.

— 1939 —

Mayor Julian H. Bagby, of Sedalia, was elected vice president of the Missouri Municipal League at its fifth annual convention in Columbia.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The parking of automobiles on Ohio avenue, or regulating parking, was a subject that received the greatest attention and brought forth a storm of discussion at the meeting of the Sedalia Kiwanis club. A motion to ask city council to pass a zone parking ordinance was made by Dave Powell and when put to a vote was defeated by one vote. The club agreed to undertake the job of improving the hospital grounds with shrubs, plants, etc.

Not Human Yet

Scientists at Johns Hopkins University have come up with a machine that is so nearly human it scares you to think about it.

So nearly human, in fact, that its designers call it "The Beast."

"The Beast" wanders around the halls of the laboratory, poking its metallic nose into places it has no business to be.

When it gets hungry, it plugs itself into the nearest electrical outlet and takes a straight shot of voltage juice on the rocks.

When it becomes tired, it simply quits working, the lucky bum.

When it runs into trouble—like tangling with a railing or getting trapped in a narrow space—it panics even as you and I and bangs itself around like crazy trying to get loose.

Now if its creators can teach "The Beast" to pop off when it should keep quiet, blow its top when it should keep cool, and go into debt for things it doesn't need, science will have taken a big step toward replacing human beings.

Until then, we mere mortals can still regard ourselves as superior to any darn machine.

School Row May Affect Poverty Plan

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Congressional leaders are keeping very mum about it, but a hot fight over federal aid to Catholic schools may block Johnson's anti-poverty program.

On top of this argument over the separation of state and church, two Southern Democrats are so opposed to the anti-poverty bill in any form that they refused to come to the White House to discuss the matter with the President. They are: Reps. Howard Smith, the Virginia Dixiecrat, and Bill Colmer, the Mississippi Dixiecrat, both key members of the Rules Committee which has the power to bottle up the poverty bill.

Another Democratic member of the Rules Committee, Jim Delaney of Long Island City, who did attend the White House meeting, was quite adamant that he would vote against the bill unless it was ok'd by his fellow Catholic, Hugh Carey, the Brooklyn Democrat who is a member of the Education and Labor Committee.

Carey has been battling inside closed door sessions of Democratic members of this committee for federal funds to Catholic schools. Delaney is Cardinal Spellman's friend, who as a member of the Rules Committee has blocked aid to education for three years because it does not include aid to parochial schools.

LBJS' Youth Plan

The section of the anti-poverty bill which arouses all the controversy is that covering vocational training. The federal government wants to train the unemployed in depressed areas to become mechanics, nurses, etc., and do this through public schools.

The President, who initiated this type of training when he was national youth administrator in Texas during the depression, feels that the whole program would be blocked in the Senate or declared unconstitutional by the courts if federal funds go to church or private schools.

CHICAGO DAILY NEWS: Taxi Drivers' Philosophy Vs. TV. — The Grand Rapids Press is worried in print lest the installation of TV sets in taxicabs will deprive passengers of the drivers' services as sight-seeing guide, town gossip and philosophical commentator.

This concept of the taxi driver as a sort of combination of Walter Lippman, George Jessel and Sam Pepys has been gaining ground. Apparently, a great many people must believe it, and conclude that it is only misfortunate chance which causes them to draw drivers who maintain a respectful silence and keep their minds on their business which is driving a taxi.

It may be that all the cab drivers in Grand Rapids finished at the Sorbonne and give out with philosophical musings which brighten the rider's day and give him an anecdote for dining out in the evening.

Unfortunately, when we draw a philosophical muser he is more likely than not to insist upon injecting his musings into a conversation that is already in progress, or to pyramid his somewhat elemental conclusions when we would prefer to be meditating upon our own problems.

True, a TV set facing the back seat would be no improvement, unless the program was optional. If, therefore, we may vote on the design of taxicabs, it would be for a prominent off-on switch—both for the TV set and to tell the driver when to philosophically muse.

Fabulous Farmers

Once again American farmers have grown more than ever on less land than ever.

Early estimates on the 1963 wheat crop show it to be 2 per cent greater than 1962, which was a record year, and 10 per cent above the 1957-59 average.

It was attained on the second smallest acreage ever recorded.

Despite the headaches it will give the Agriculture Department and the money this excess wheat will cost the taxpayers, it does the country proud. It is a great achievement, made possible through the joining of the skills and efforts of countless researchers in chemistry and biology with the world-famous know-how of the American farmer.

But behind closed doors, Carey told Democratic colleagues:

"All schools of the grade and secondary level should qualify unless they are devoted solely to religious instruction."

Pennsylvania's Rep. John Dent was even more obdurate.

"About half of the school kids in Pittsburgh go to a private or parochial school," he said. "Do you want to exclude them?" "The doors of the public schools in Pittsburgh will be open to parochial and private students who need vocational training," pointed out Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky. "If we approve an amendment that violates the constitution, we will weaken the bill and risk defeat on the House floor."

However, except for occasional help from Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., Perkins has been fighting almost alone. Chairman Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem, who is pastor of the largest Baptist church in the United States, opposes him. He maintains, behind closed doors: "We can't confine this program to public schools."

Fighting Poverty

President Johnson is receiving a heart-warming response from many business leaders to his anti-poverty program. One of the first to back him up was Consolidated Edison, the giant utilities firm which supplies light and power to the sprawling metropolis of New York.

Harland C. Forbes, Chairman of Con Edison, has just notified the White House that it will spend $25,000,000 on new facilities in order to burn coal from Appalachia.

Con Ed had previously planned to build a nuclear power plant in Long Island City, just a short distance from downtown Manhattan, but bowed to public fear that the plant might be a health hazard. Instead the company will spend a considerable amount of money on new facilities in order to buy around 2,500,000 tons more coal annually from West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania.

Both Sides of the Street

The World Today

Turns Focus Knob On Viet 'Camera'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Switch the picture around — with the United States in Red China's place—and it isn't hard to understand why Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara just returned from Viet Nam with a gloomy forecast.

He said the war against communism there is going to be "a long, hard war."

Far less easy to understand is why this same McNamara could make other trips to Viet Nam—five in two years — and come back with sunnier statements.

He sounded in the past as if he didn't understand the problem, as if he considered the Vietnamese war just a fight in and for one country instead of being a fight for all Asia, one which may continue for years or a generation.

Look at this picture first: The Red Chinese by their own words are dedicated to imposing communism everywhere. One of the reasons they gave for their split with Russia is that the Soviets were not aggressive enough in spreading communism.

So it can be assumed they will insist as a minimum upon seeking a totally Communist Asia. If they have not sought to achieve this yet by direct military actions, that is understandable. They're not ready yet.

They are still in the building-up stage, economically, industrially and militarily. They simply do not have the weapons—particularly nuclear ones — to match the West. Given time, they can hope to achieve that.

Meanwhile, they can be expected to use methods short of direct war with the West to communize Asia, even though it takes years, through subversion or aid to Communist guerrillas inside neighboring non-Red countries.

This thinking is not exclusive with the Chinese. After World War II the Russians, who had been attacked by Germany in two world wars, were not content to have their frontiers up against non-communist countries.

They reduced their nearest neighbors to satellites. This served a double purpose. It spread communism and, in case of a future war with the West, those satellites would be handy buffers to blunt the initial attacks.

The Red Chinese can be expected to do no less. So, all the smaller Asian countries—particularly Viet Nam, which borders on China—are logical targets for communism through subversion, civil war, or Red Chinese pressure.

If Viet Nam tumbles, the other small nations in southeastern Asia would be persuaded just that much more to line up with China, not with the West. So it is to China's interest to see the Vietnamese war continued, no matter how long it takes, with China's aid and encouragement.

If the United States were in Red China's position, it probably would never cease trying to bring about such a result, as can be seen by reversing the picture and taking Cuba and Mexico as examples.

Communist Cuba, 90 miles off the American shore, is no direct threat to this country now although it was for the brief time in which Russian missiles were based there. Perhaps in time something like that will happen again.

It goes without saying this country will never cease trying to rid Cuba of communism, as it is trying for the time being by economic boycott after backing an invasion that failed.

Extend the picture to Mexico, which now has a democratic government. Suppose Russia alone had nuclear weapons and the United States were in China's present position of not having them.

And suppose Communists in Mexico were trying to crush the democratic government of Mexico with the help of Russian men and resources. The United States would not want to risk a nuclear war which it couldn't fight.

But it would never cease trying to encourage and supply the democratic forces fighting the Mexican Communists, no matter how long it took. By this reasoning, fighting in Asia will be a long story.

Several Approaches To Treatment of Ileitis

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q — I have had a portion of my bowel removed because of Crohn's disease. Is there any chance that the disease will come back? Is it a form of cancer?

A — Crohn's disease or regional ileitis is an inflammation of the small intestine (ileum). The cause is not known. It is not a form of cancer.

It often involves several short portions of the ileum with normal bowel in between. The victim has cramping pains in the abdomen often aggravated by eating, loose stools and loss of appetite.

About one third of the victims recover spontaneously from an acute attack. In the rest, the disease becomes chronic and extends to involve an even greater portion of the intestine.

The treatment is not very satisfactory and several approaches must be used. A bland diet with antispasmodic drugs and enough food to prevent loss of weight is important. In some victims psychiatric care is necessary to remove emotional factors that may be aggravating the disease. Antibiotics may be needed for the acute attack.

Removal of the involved segment has been widely used, but because recurrences have been so common surgeons are now advocating an opening of the healthy bowel through the abdominal wall (ileostomy) to give the diseased portion a rest.

Q — I am 30 years old and have been taking Enovid for several months. Are there any harmful results from taking this drug?

A — Although too large a dosage may cause such side effects as headache and nausea, when taken in the prescribed amount this drug can be safely taken for prolonged periods.

Q — What is Decagesic and what is it given for?

A — This is a combination of dexamethasone, one of the cortisone group of drugs, with aspirin and aluminum hydroxide. It is especially recommended for rheumatism and other types of arthritis, bursitis and other diseases of the joints. As with all drugs containing cortisone or related hormones, it should not be taken over a prolonged period.

Q — I have been taking Dexedrine for several years to help

Further Investigation Urged For Pesticides

J. L. Rutherford, Missouri's state entomologist, appeared at a public meeting in Memphis, Tenn., several weeks ago to defend, for the present, the use of three pesticides, Aldrin, Dieldrin and Endrin, said to be vital to cotton production.

The pesticides have carried the brunt of criticism lately over what has been killing fish in nearby rivers.

Said Rutherford at the meeting: "These chemicals are effective agricultural pesticides, and any action which would prevent their use, simply on the basis of suspected harmful effects to fish in the lower Mississippi River, would be impulsive and irresponsible."

A further investigation is expected to be conducted by federal agencies and leading manufacturers of the pesticides which are used, among other things, to combat weevils in cotton. The state, Rutherford noted, has neither funds nor facilities for conducting research into the harmful aspects of these chemicals.

However, the University of Missouri has equipment to run such tests, but each test would cost $25, Rutherford indicated, and his division simply cannot afford it.

One of the state's primary concerns appears to be the possibility of changing the labels on these three widely used pesticides. Such a change could greatly curtail their usage. "If these are taken off the market," Rutherford said, "the cost to the cotton farmer would increase and the quality of his produce would be lowered."

There are other pesticides on the market today, but none apparently is as effective as any of the three in question. Rutherford pointed out that if these were removed from public sale, a farmer would have to use a variety of chemicals to accomplish what any one of these is able to do.

"We are not satisfied that adequate evidence has been found to indicate that these chemicals are responsible for the seasonal mortality of various species of fishes in the Mississippi drainage area," Rutherford said at Memphis.

And, he added, "We recommend a more thorough, scientific study and analyses of fish flesh, fowls, water samples and soil samples." If such studies further indicted Aldrin, Dieldrin and Endrin, Rutherford said, then the state would support proposals for instituting restrictions.

Litter Continues to Blot Roadways

Every year about this time, the Missouri State Highway Department begins its head scratching ritual trying to find ways of curbing the nuisance of litter strewn along the thousands of miles of roads throughout the state.

Apparently no section of either the state or county is immune to the litter bug disease.

In a recent spot check along U. S. 54 near Mexico it was determined that the cost to the state of picking up litter along a one-mile stretch amounted to $33.18. This was the average for a 14-mile test strip.

The Highway Department has under consideration plans for conducting a thorough study of the littering problem, possibly later this spring, to find out exactly how much it is costing the state.

In May, 1957, a survey determined the cost was $28.11 per highway mile. In this test, cost samples were obtained on half-mile test sections in all but a few counties. At that time, the lowest cost per mile was reported at $5.10 in St. Clair County with the highest, $170 per mile, in Franklin County.

A less extensive survey was made in 1962 showing a $5 reduction in costs. However, this reduction wasn't taken to mean a lessening of the problem, but rather an indication of a less thorough survey.

It has been estimated that nationally the cost of maintaining clean roadways may run as high as $100 million annually. This amount is deducted, officials indicate, from money made available for highway construction.

Water, Sewer System Guide Now Available

A study of waterworks and sewer systems installed by 153 Missouri communities, along with construction of municipal swimming pools, has been completed by the University of Missouri and is available now through county extension centers.

The study was developed by J. Pitts Jarvis Jr. of the University of Missouri College of Engineering, who said: "Often small communities feel they are too small to have any of the three facilities, yet other communities, no larger and some times even smaller, do have them."

The study is designed to provide a guide for other Missouri towns now considering installing similar municipal facilities.

DEAR POLLY — A couple of years ago I bought a plastic garment bag to use for storing seldom-worn things and to keep the shoulders of garments from catching dust. The plastic finally split so I decided to make one of fabric that could be washed. I took out the zipper and used it again. The top rectangular frame, with the built-in hangers, served as the only pattern I needed. The piece of cardboard that came in the bottom of the bag was dropped back in to give the new lower part the original sharp square look. I am so pleased with my new creation because I can slip the cover off, wash, starch and iron it to be fresh as new again. The original plastic cover which proved to be a large piece when opened up was used to cover some flats of seedlings so they will not dry out so quickly.—K. S.

DEAR POLLY — If you are constantly breaking or replacing skirt and slacks zippers, sew in a two-inch longer one next time. The strain on your old broken zipper was probably right where the zipper starts up the track. In this way you will me reduce. Will it cause any bad side effects?

A — Dexedrine is a brand of dextro amphetamine. It is commonly used as a nervous system stimulant and appetite depressant. Large doses may cause insomnia, nausea or fainting. It should not be used continuously because it is habit-forming.

Recognized For Services

Mary E. Van Dyne

Miss Mary Elizabeth Van Dyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Van Dyne, was the recipient of a special award for outstanding services rendered to Smith-Cotton High School during her senior year there in 1962-63.

The award, an engraved plaque, was presented by the Smith-Cotton Journalism Club, the S-C Girls' Athletic Association, and the S-C Student Council, at the annual Recognition Assembly at Smith-Cotton High School Friday morning. In presenting the award, Don Lamm, Jr., president of the Sedalia Community Teachers Association and director of publicity at Smith-Cotton stated: "Every so often there comes to nearly every school a born leader—someone who has the intelligence, drive, and persuasive power to cause other people to want to work together to get important things done for the betterment of the school."

"As the Journalism Club, Girls' Athletic Association, and Student Council reflects back over this year, they take pause to recognize a girl who fulfilled every single pledge, and more, which she made before this student body not too many months ago when she achieved the important office of Vice-President of the senior high student council last year."

"It was through her tireless efforts, charm and grace that a Girls' Athletic Association was established at Smith-Cotton. She was the main force behind the revival of a Smith-Cotton newspaper which resulted in the formulation of a Journalism class and a Journalism Club this year. Also, she was one of the persons who stayed in to the dead end to see the Victory Bell obtained and placed in its proper place outside the doors of this building."

"It is not often that one person can boast of a triple accomplishment of such magnitude as this in one short school year. It is a pleasure for me to present this plaque to Miss Mary Elizabeth Van Dyne in token of our deep appreciation."

The plaque states: "Presented to Mary Elizabeth Van Dyne in recognition for outstanding services rendered to Smith-Cotton High School during her senior year 1962-63. The Journalism Club, the GAA and Student Council are deeply appreciative."

During her high school career, Miss Van Dyne was president of her eighth grade class at Barstow School for Girls in Kansas City. Then she came to Smith-Cotton and was vice president of the sophomore class. During her junior year, she won the best actress award in the Intramural Plays. While a senior she was homecoming queen, vice-president of the S-C student council, and co-editor of the Tiger Tales Newspaper. Through her efforts, the Girls' Athletic Association, the revival

Ron Herbel is nearsighted and Jack Fisher is beginning to see the light.

Herbel is one of the young pitchers the San Francisco Giants were counting on when they let Fisher go to the New York Mets in the National League's "Help the Poor" draft last fall.

Manager Alvin Dark gave the rookie right-hander his first major league start in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader against Fisher and the Mets but had Herbel known he'd only get two hits from his teammates, he might have declined the opportunity.

Fisher handcuffed the Giants for seven innings allowing only singles to Matty Alou in the first and Orlando Cepeda in the second. Pitching for the Giants, it might have been good enough to win but hurling for the Mets...

...not a chance. Cepeda, who slugged a three-run homer to back up Bob Hendley's three-hitter for a 6-0 first game victory, did the damage. He stole second following his single, moved to third on a fly ball and scored when Fisher uncorked a wild pitch. It was the only mistake the ex-Giant hurler made, but it was enough to beat him.

Herbel, who began wearing glasses in spring training, surrendered seven hits to Casey Stengel's ruthless wonders and pitched out of numerous jams. The double triumph marked the first Giant sweep since July 4, 1962 when—who else—the Mets were victimized 11-4 and 10-3.

While the Giants were sweeping, three other National League doubleheaders ended in splits. Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 3-2 and the Pirates won the second game 8-3; St. Louis stretched Milwaukee's losing streak to five with a 7-3 victory in the opener before the Braves came back to take the nightcap 4-2. Chicago's four run ninth inning edged Cincinnati 5-4 in the opener before the Reds won the nightcap 7-1. In a night game at Houston, Philadelphia blanked the Colts 2-0.

The Phillies pulled the first triple play of the season against the Colts in the fifth inning. With Walt Williams on first and Jerry Grote on second, Jerry Grote grounded to first baseman John Herrnstein.

Herrnstein fired to Bobby Wine, forcing Williams, and Wine's return throw retired Grote. When Staub tried to score, Herrnstein's throw to Gus Triandos caught him at the plate.

Walt Alston gave the Dodgers' Connelley Corps a workout, starting Sandy Koufax in the opener and Johnny Podres in the second game.

Koufax nursed a shutout into the eighth before three Pirate hits delivered both runs and brought on Ron Perranoski, who saved it.

Podres, making his first start since April 25, was shelled for four runs and failed to last through the first inning.

Kansas Gets Career Peak Performance

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Kansas got career peak performances from six men and upset the pre-meet dope chart a second straight year in winning its 11th Big Eight outdoor track championship in 13 years here Saturday.

Colorado's Jim Miller had a hand in three of five meet records and won the Henry Schulte Award for the most outstanding athlete. Robin Lingle of Missouri and Victor Brooks of Nebraska were double winners.

Nebraska's six gold medals led the meet and the Huskers finished second with Missouri's pre-meet favorites a distant third.

Kansas scored 126 points, Nebraska 105, Missouri 86, Oklahoma 63, Oklahoma State 58, Colorado 57, Kansas State 17 and Iowa State 12.

Coach Bill Easton's winning formula for the Jayhawks was familiar—distance power and a 63-point blow with field event depth. The closing links were an 18-point three mile and 14-point triple jump. Sprinter Bob Hanson's 15 points led KU.

A year ago, the Jayhawks closed with 30 points in the same two events, scored 74 1/2 in the field events and got career bests from six men, as they sneaked in by four points over Missouri.

"I always thought we had a good shot," Easton said. "Our guys know how to win this meet—it's a tradition."

Miller anchored the 440 team to a sizzling meet record of 40.5, tied the high hurdles record 14.0, broke his own 330 hurdles mark with 36.4 and anchored the third place mile relay team to a 3:12.2.

His 24-point job came despite a heavily taped thigh, the result of a muscle pull. Brooks also disclosed he had leg troubles. He managed to hide it while setting a triple jump record of 47-7 and winning the broad jump in 24-7 1/4.

The meet high jump mark of 6-8 1/2 was tied by Russ Laverty of Oklahoma State. Lingle just missed meet records with his 4:05.9 mile and 14:26.9 three-mile, then remarked, "I'd like to run some more."

Nebraska's Lynn Headley won the 100 with a 9.5 over Oklahoma's Anthony Watson, Olympic sprinter trying to come back after a three-week injury layoff. Watson scratched from the 220, won by Nebraska's Kent McCloughan in 21.3.

Dave Crook led a 22-point Nebraska 440 with his fast 47.0, then anchored the mile relay team to a 3:10.9 record. Other winners were OSU's Preston Helsingier, 15-8 pole vault and OU's Dick Inman, 167-8 discus.

The meet turning point came in the 880, won by Ronnie Coane of Kansas in 1:51.11, with Missouri scoring only one point. A career best by Tom Purma of 224-1 led Kansas to a 1-2 javelin finish. Bob Neuman led Missouri's 1-2 shot put finish with his 56-9.

Merchants Drop Season Opener To Fulton Club

Fulton blasted the Sedalia Merchants in their season opener Sunday in a 7-0 shutout.

Bobby Jenkins, former MU hurler, allowed only five hits by the Merchants. In all fairness to the Merchants, they were playing for the first time against a strong Fulton club with six straight victories.

Briggs spots for the Merchants were "Bones" Morgan's two line drive hits, and he allowed only two runs in the last three innings.

Nicky Nichols' almost unbelievable catch of a foul down the first base line was another highlight of the game. Bobby Brown allowed one hit and one run in four innings.

This was Morgan's first pitching assignment since his Junior Legion days and he did real well, along with leading the hitting attack.

Fulton has other MU stars in Hank Kuchman and Bobby Haas, along with Jenkins.

Kuchman and Nichols made the outstanding catches of the game.

Set Fixed Fee

Big Eight Approves List Of Six Grid Bowl Games

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—The Big Eight approved a list of six football bowl games, set up a fixed fee for bowl expenses and reviewed its rule limiting athletic scholarships at its annual budget meeting Saturday.

Big Eight teams can accept bids next season to the Cotton, Sugar, Orange, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls without faculty approval.

Sugar and Cotton Bowl representatives met with the league faculty representatives and athletic directors to acquaint them with their programs. The league's 11-year contract with the Orange Bowl ended after Nebraska's 13-7 victory over Auburn Jan. 1.

No bowl tieups were considered. The Big Eight won seven of the 11 games under the Orange Bowl Contract.

A fixed fee of $60,000 plus $8 a mile was established by the faculty men for bowl expenses by the competing league school in the Orange, Sugar, Cotton and Gator bowls. The figures will be $40,000 plus $8 a mile for the Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls.

The faculty representatives didn't include trips for themselves in their bowl legislation. In the past, the competing school submitted a budget. The policy of splitting bowl money eight ways was unchanged.

Proposed changes were discussed in the league rule setting limits of 100 football scholarships and 24 basketball grants effective Sept. 1, 1965. Some want to make the limits on total scholarship money instead of individuals, other want to set a limit on incoming freshmen only.

No changes were made but a special meeting to discuss the limits was called of all faculty men, athletic directors and football coaches for Aug. 14-15 in Kansas City.

The league adopted Big Eight Conference as its official name, replacing Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which was never used, anyway.

Wayne Duke, executive director, said a special committee to study and set down Duke's specific enforcement and rule interpretation powers made a progress report. Duke said final action is expected at the October meeting. In other actions, the faculty men:

1. Set dates for 1964-65 Big Eight meets. Cross country will be at Kansas State in November, the exact date to be set later; outdoor track, tennis and golf at Nebraska May 14-15; swimming March 4-5 at Iowa State; wrestling March 12-15 at Oklahoma; gymnastics March 5-6 at Colorado.

2. Approved an eight-year rotation for the outdoor track meets—Missouri '66, Oklahoma '67, Iowa State '68, Colorado '69, Kansas '70, K-State '71, Oklahoma State '72.

3. Announced pairings for the pre-season basketball tournament at Kansas City Dec. 26-30. K-State will play Oklahoma and Kansas will play Iowa State; Colorado vs. Nebraska and OSU vs. Missouri. The third place game will be in the afternoon, the fifth place game at night, instead of the reverse.

4. Gave permission for various off-campus basketball games.

5. Increased the fee for basketball officials to $85, a $10 hike. This makes the league second only to the Big Ten.

6. Approved a Big Eight traveling sportsmanship award for all sports, to be administered entirely by the league's student governments.

7. Recommended a $5 ticket price for all league football games, effective 1965.

Marshman, Clark Lead Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jimmy Clark of Scotland, world's fastest commuter, and American Bobby Marshman will lead four former winners across the starting line for the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race on Memorial Day.

In their slipper-shaped Lotus-Fords they topped a record-smashing field in qualifications Saturday. Clark took the race day pole position at 158.8 miles per hour in a factory team car and Marshman won the second starting spot at 157.9 m.p.h. in a similar racer entered independently.

The Scot farmer hopped a plane to Mallory Park, England, and won the Guard's Trophy race there Sunday, setting a lap record on the winding course. Clark will compete in the Dutch Grand Prix next weekend before flying back to Indianapolis. Clark, who dominated the Grand Prix international circuit last year as no driver ever did before, will be the first European to lead the 500 start since Rene Thomas of France won the pole in 1919.

Jack Brabham of Australia and England, another former Grand Prix champion, was left still waiting to make his qualifying run when the second time trial session ended Sunday. He plans to try again Saturday after a round trip to Holland to practice for the Grand Prix.

Sixteen cars qualified on the 2½-mile oval track Saturday and five made the line-up Sunday. The field so far has averaged 153.1 miles an hour. Parnelli Jones, last year's winner of the $500,000 race, captured the pole position then at a record 151.1 average.

The 33 fastest cars in the trials will start the race. The qualifications continue next Saturday and Sunday.

Whitey Ford Calls A Halt To Slugging

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS All good things must come to an end and they did late Sunday afternoon for St. Louis and Kansas City hitters.

The Cardinals began the day on another rampage against Milwaukee pitchers by hammering 14 hits, including home runs by Bill White and Tim McCarver, for a 7-3 victory in St. Louis.

But the Braves' Tony Cloninger finally halted them in the nightcap, 4-2, as the Cardinals crossed the plate only on a two-run homer by Doug Clemens.

Cloninger's six-hitter came after the Cardinals captured the first two contests of the four-game series, 10-6, with 14 hits, and 6-5, with 12 safeties.

Kansas City did quite a bit of hitting, too, but unfortunately, their pitchers had to face hot Yankee bats in New York.

The A's, after clobbering the Yanks Friday, 11-0, lost Saturday, 10-6, and then dropped a doubleheader Sunday in New York, 11-9, and 8-0.

Whitey Ford of New York put a halt to Kansas City slugging with a four-hitter in the nightcap.

The A's had pounded 13 hits in the opener in an unsuccessful attempt to overhaul an 11-4 deficit. Dick Green drove in three runs and George Alusik two.

John O'Donoghue and Orlando Pena were the Kansas City losers.

The Cardinals started out with ideas of a four-game sweep as they backed the six-hit pitching of Curt Simmons with another robust offense.

The three ninth-inning runs off Simmons, 5-2, were unearned.

Dick Groat drove in two runs with three hits and Curt Flood added four safeties.

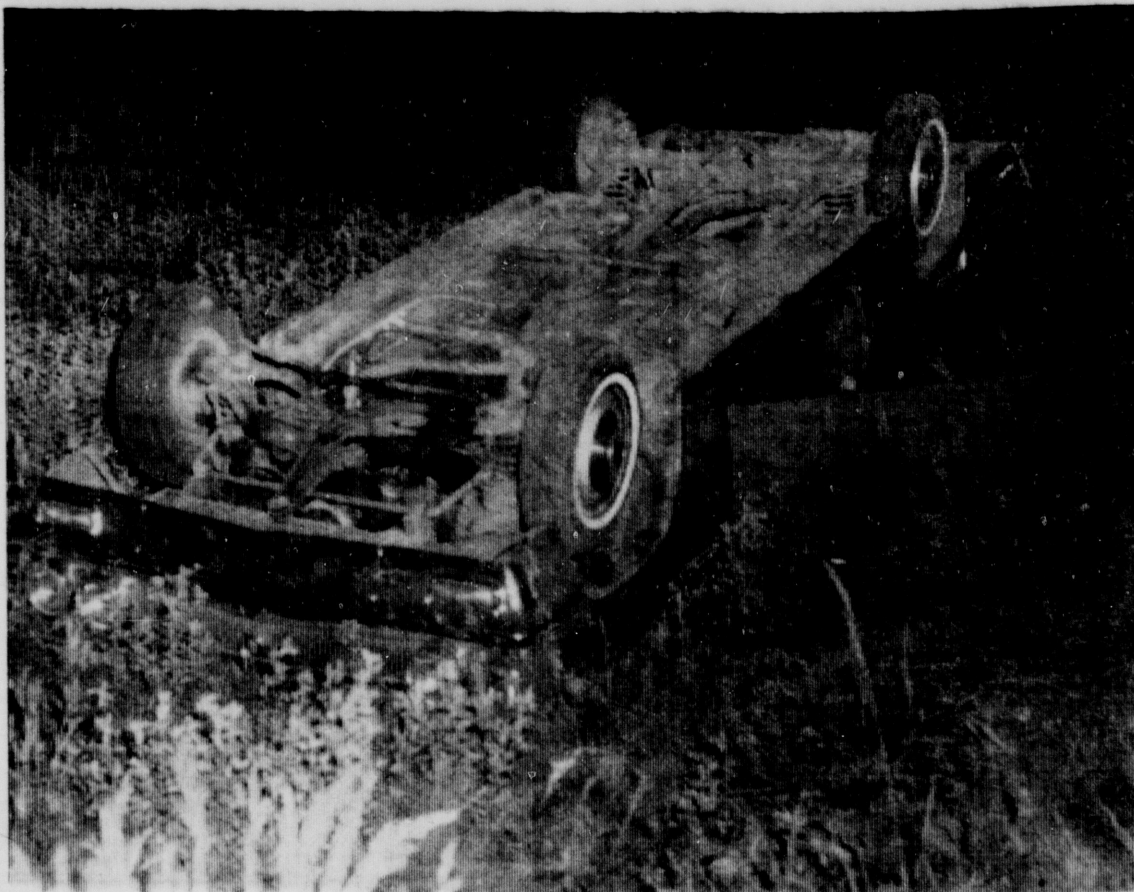

Ray Washburn, seeking his third straight victory for the Cardinals, made three bad pitches to Ed Bailey, Dennis Menke and Felipe Alou. All three cracked solo homers, overcoming the blast by Clemens in the second game.

The Cardinals and the A's are idle today.

Flag Proposal Boomed

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson encountered boos and heckling as he unfurled his proposal for a new Canadian flag before a Royal Canadian Legion convention Sunday night.

Pearson proposes to replace Canada's Red Ensign, which has the British Union Jack in the upper left-hand corner, with a maple leaf design as part of his program to counter separatist, anti-British sentiment in French-speaking Quebec Province.

ESCAPE INJURY—Three men escaped injury about 9 a.m. Friday when this 1963 Buick overturned on its top as it was going around a curve. The accident was on State Route 127 about four miles south of Green Ridge. Extensive damage resulted to the car. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Eye Perfect Record

Missouri Big 8 Baseball Champion for This Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Missouri is the Big Eight baseball champ for the 10th in 25 seasons under Hi Simmons and the only remaining question is whether Kansas can spoil Missouri's bid for a perfect season.

The Tigers have won 16 straight in league play going into the closing series with Kansas at Lawrence Tuesday and Wednesday. The last conference team to go unbeaten was Iowa State in 1936.

Missouri completed a three-game sweep over Nebraska with a 4-2 victory at Columbia behind lefthander Jack Stroud Saturday. Stroud led the hitting with a single and triple.

Colorado took the rubber game of the Kansas series, 11-6 at Boulder in a home run battle. Three Buffs hit two-run homers — Bob Bennett, Denny Murano and Tom Dutcher. Both Mike Der Manuel and Jim Shanks had three-run homers for Kansas.

Oklahoma made it two out of three over Oklahoma State with a 4-0 shutout at Stillwater.

Iowa State completed a three game sweep over Kansas State at Ames and tightened its hold on second place by taking two, 6-1 and 9-1. Al Closter had a four-hitter and Bob Ziegler a five-hitter for the Cyclones, now 10-4.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Readers: Recently I printed a letter from "Ben," whose wife had a rash on her hands. The itching and bleeding was agony—not to mention the staggering doctor bills. Ben said she had tried everything under (and including) the sun—without success.

Thousands of kind-hearted, well-meaning readers have sent along suggestions to help Ben's wife get rid of the rash. Here are some samples:

From Fort Worth: Dear Ann: I know what Ben's wife is going through. My wife had the same thing. Tell Ben to change his hair oil. I'll bet his wife is allergic to it like my wife was to mine.

From Mexico City: Tell Ben's wife to use Ivory soap.

From Aberdeen, S. D.: Tell Ben's wife to use Dial soap.

From Paducah, Kentucky: Tell Ben's wife to use Sweet-heart soap.

From Iron Mountain, Mich.: Tell Ben's wife not to use any soap.

From Honolulu: If Ben's wife will sleep with three copper pennies under her pillow for one week the rash will disappear. The copper changes the direction of the blood stream and will purify her whole system. It sounds crazy, but it works.

From Fort Lauderdale: Please tell Ben's wife to use rubber gloves and her hands will clear up in no time at all.

From Montreal, Quebec: I'll bet Ben's wife is using rubber gloves. If she keeps this up her hands will never heal. Rubber gloves irritate a rash and keep it going. I know because it happened to me.

From Westchester: I'll bet Ben's wife has tried every home remedy that her half-baked friends and relatives have suggested. Tell her to stu it out and go to a first-rate dermatologist.

From Los Angeles: Tell Ben's wife to stop running to doctors and to try prayer.

From San Juan, Puerto Rico: I found a bottle of stuff that had been sitting around the house for a long time. I got so fed up buying medicine for my itching hands that I just poured some of this stuff on them. It cured my hands inside of three days. I can't give you the name of it because the label is off, but I have some left and if you will let me know where Ben's wife lives I'll send it to her.

From Jackson, Michigan: I've been through the itching hands routine and I can tell Ben's wife that the only solution is a divorce. She's allergic to HIM!

Dear Ann Landers: I grew up hating my brother and I never knew why. After six months of therapy I know why and I want to pass on the knowledge to every parent who reads your column.

I am 21 and my brother is 23. All my life I despised Ralph because no matter what I wanted, my mother always asked Ralph first if HE wanted it. If Ralph said "yes," he got it.

When the doctor asked me to search my memory for my first recollection of childhood, it was just such an incident that I recalled. First, it was with toys, then with food (example: the last piece of pie) later, the choice of TV programs, and finally, the family car.

I grew up feeling inferior to Ralph and I hated him for besting me. I didn't realize he was not to blame.

So, ask yourselves, parents, are you fair to ALL your children, or do you play favorites? If you play favorites, your children will pay a big price, as I did—EDNA.

Dear Edna: And now if you can forgive your mother for her ignorance, you will have opened another door to understanding—and contentment.

Scholarships For Sons Of MoPac Workers

Four college scholarships will be awarded each year to sons of employees of the Missouri Pacific Railroad and the Texas & Pacific Railway, it was announced today.

The awards will be made through the nationwide scholarship competition conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Each scholarship will be a four-year award covering undergraduate years and will range from a minimum of $1,000 to a maximum of $6,000 for the period, based on the individual's financial needs to attend the college of his choice.

The new scholarship was announced to all employees of the railroad yesterday.

The Missouri Pacific said that its participation in the National Merit Scholarship awards is part of its "overall broad program of assisting its employees in improving themselves through offering a wide range of educational opportunities. Included are a Tuition Aid Plan, management supervisory courses, special training for selected college graduates, sponsored seminars, a cooperative program with universities, and other in-service courses, covering all levels of employees."

"The additional step of awarding merit scholarships to sons of employees is in recognition not only of the long tradition in which sons follow their fathers into this essential industry, but also to prepare the sons of our employees to make a sounder contribution to the American enterprise system," MoPac said.

In addition, the railroad said it would in most instances make additional grants to colleges selected by winners.
